TODAY & TOMORROW

RUSH — TIME DATED

"Bear-ly New," the Hospitals Auxiliary thrift shop, is looking for volunteers and good quality useable items for the shop now located at 1909 Fillmore Street. Open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday to Saturday, the shop is a nonprofit venture and aides patients in the UCSF Hospitals and Clinics.

A donation box for the shop is now under construction and will be placed in the lobby of Medical Sciences after completion. Anyone wishing to donate their time or useable items should contact Estelle Blair, shop manager at 921-2789. For any further information call the Auxiliary Office at x4906, Monday to Friday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

UC's Hastings College of the Law is looking for "volunteer jurors" for mock trials of civil and criminal advocacy, Saturday and Sunday, March 14 and 15, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The trials are of special interest to individuals in a medical community because the cases will deal with personal injury and business litigation.

These trials are part of Hastings' continuing legal education programs and are sponsored by the National Institute for Trial Advocacy (NITA) Western Regional. Each volunteer juror will be paid $10 per day and will have a chance to critique the performance of the lawyers at the end of court time. For further information contact Tzivia Stein, 557-2205.

The School of Medicine's Curriculum in Physical Therapy will institute a reorganized educational program, beginning the 1981 summer term.

The program, which spreads the basic sciences through three academic periods instead of one, will allow conformity with modern physical therapy standards, allow students more time for independent study of required subject matter, and ease crowded gross anatomy and neuroanatomy laboratory conditions.

Registration for the 1981-82 class will be June 26, 1981. Instruction will begin June 29 and continue through the 1982 summer term. There will be 5 consecutive 12-week terms of instruction including 18 weeks of clinical clerkship.

Irene Gilbert, assistant clinical professor, is director of the Curriculum in Physical Therapy.

UCSF has begun the first year of a project which studies substantially cutting the costs of hospital laboratory tests. Lewis Sheiner, associate professor, Laboratory Medicine, is identifying laboratory tests that add to hospital bills without adding information helpful to diagnosis or treatment. He believes that many physicians order tests that he says are "conditionally useless."

Co-investigators in this study are Stephen N. Cohen, C. Diane Nicoll, Robert Anderson and Stuart Beal, all of the Department of Laboratory Medicine. The project is made possible by a grant of $95,395 from the National Center for Health Sciences Research.

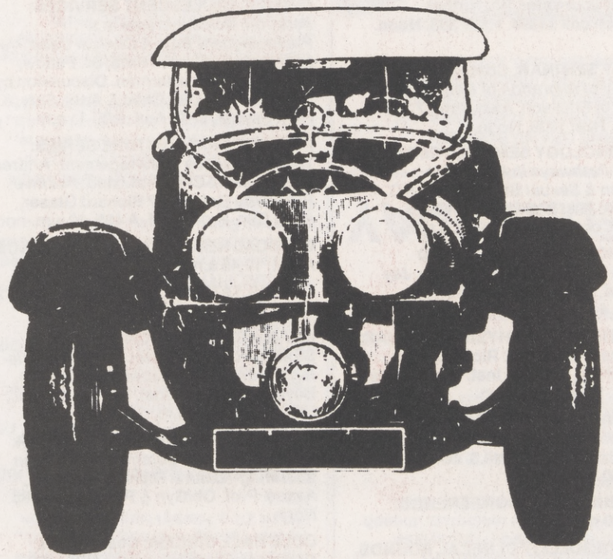
UCSF served as host institution for the Children's Cancer Study Group of the National Cancer Institute West Coast Meeting, in February.

The meeting focused on a number of significant advances the group has made in the field of pediatric oncology which have dramatically increased survival rates for children, as well as proposals for new treatment modalities for children's cancer, based on cooperative research findings over the past few months. The Study Group was celebrating its 25th anniversary.

Lane Medical Library, Stanford University, is having a book sale, Wednesday, March 11, in the lobby of the Sherman Fairchild Auditorium, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The booksale is comprised of items donated to the library which are offered to the medical community at considerably reduced prices. Proceeds go for new library acquisitions. For further information call 497-6401.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, which will cover the period March 7-20, will be Tuesday, February 24, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 1475-4th Ave., extension 1541 or 2557.



Beginning Monday, March 2, a pool permit vehicle must contain three or more persons to park in decal parking areas. On days when a pool permit vehicle has less than three riders, public parking will have to be used or other transportation arrangements made (exceptions will be made only for currently authorized two passenger pools). Violators will be cited, and continued violation will result in the revoking of permits.

The Parking and Transportation Task Force has reported that as many as 70% of car pools entering campus parking areas have fewer than the required number of riders. This not only defeats the program's purpose to reduce significantly the number of cars coming to the campus but is unfair to members of the campus community who do not have decals.

Another change to be considered in the car pool program effective July 1, will be an increase in the pool decal to the same rate charged for other decals of the same class. This increase will help to cover the expense of administering the pool program. With the division of the charge among participants, the car pool program will continue to offer an attractive rate to individuals who pay for public parking on those days when vacations or sick leaves prevent a pool car from meeting requirements for decal parking areas.

Car pools without the necessary number of persons should contact the Transportation Office at x1511 to seek additional riders.

UCSF will award its highest honor – the UCSF Medal – to five civic leaders and members of the campus community, in recognition of their distinguished service to the campus and to the field of education and health care, on Wednesday, February 25, at a dinner at the Bohemian Club. Chancellor Sooy will present the awards to Mr. and Mrs. Saul Epstein, Mrs. Carlotta Fleming, Nathan Malamud, MD, and Frances A. Torrey, MD.

The Epsteins, Southern California philanthropists, established the "Saul and Ida Epstein Otoneurological Laboratory" at UCSF in 1976. This is a complete electron microscopy facility, which, in conjunction with the Coleman Laboratory, is responsible for developing the cochlear implant.

Fleming is the widow of Willard C. Fleming, who was UCSF Chancellor, 1966-69 and dean of the School of Dentistry, 1939-65. She has been an outstanding supporter of UCSF for more than five decades and has played an active role since 1924 in student and faculty relations, fund raising and important patient service activities.

Malamud, professor emeritus of Neuropathology and an international authority in this field, is a skillful and devoted teacher who has been with UCSF for 35 years. He is former president of the American Association of Neuropathologists, received the Letterman Civilian Service award in 1966, and is the author of the Atlas of Neuropathology.

Torrey is clinical professor emeritus of Dermatology and was the first woman chair and professor of Dermatology at UCSF and one of the first in the U.S. Chief of the Dermatology Clinic for 40 years, Torrey personally trained most of the older practicing dermatologists in the Bay Area.

NEWS BRIEFS

Dean Jere Goyan of the School of Pharmacy has returned from his post as Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration and will resume his UCSF duties on Monday, March 2.

As is customary when the Administration in Washington changes hands, Dean Goyan submitted his resignation to outgoing Health and Human Services Secretary Patricia Harris. In accepting his resignation Harris stated that Goyan had demonstrated time and again an outstanding ability to deal effectively with the issues.

Goyan, who also holds an appointment as professor of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Chemistry, has served as dean since 1967 and was elected to a five-year term on the prestigious Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences in 1978. He is one of the first two pharmacy representatives to be elected.

Goyan helped create a new dimension in pharmaceutical education – clinical education for the pharmacy student – and has been active in stressing the importance of research in pharmacokinetics and pharmaceutical chemistry as they relate to patient needs.

The late Eugene Jorgensen served as acting dean and Dallas Tuck acting associate dean during Goyan's 16 month leave.

Personal Safety Seminars are being offered to all SFGH employees within the Department of Medicine on Thursday, March 5 in Carr Auditorium, SFGH. The seminars, held at 2 and 3 p.m., are sponsored by UCSF's Rape Prevention Education Program and the Department of Medicine, SFGH.

The Rape Prevention Education Program continues to offer courses to all UCSF employees on personal safety, tear gas classes and self-defense workshops. For further information call x5683.

The campus telephone system will be expanded starting Saturday, February 28, with an installation of over 400 lines. This will require the following changes when dialing pocket pagers and LPPI:

LPPI: instead of dialing 7, waiting for the dial tone and dialing the three digit extension – dial 77, wait for the dial tone and dial the three digit extension.

In addition, the following Hospitals/Clinics dictating system access codes will be changed: discharge summaries from 52 to 72, operation reports from 54 to 74 and clinical referral letters from 55 to 75. For further information contact Irene Holland, x1581.

Minority nurses are invited to submit applications for tuition support for baccalaureate or higher degree nursing programs. Criteria for evaluation include: UCSF career employee, satisfactory performance evaluations, statement of goals and need for financial assistance and the willingness to make a commitment to continue employment at UCSF approximately equal to the amount of time enrolled and supported in nursing school.

Priority will be given to the baccalaureate program, however nurses seeking graduate education are invited to submit applications. Ethnic groups which are significantly under-represented at UCSF will get preference.

For application information contact one of the following directors or representatives: Helen Ripple, In-patient Nursing, x2252; Kathy Dolan, Ambulatory Care, x4021; Linda Groah, Operating and Recovery Rooms, x2207; or Marilyn Rajokovich, LPPI, x7-369.

IN MEMORIAM

Eugene C. Jorgensen, acting dean, School of Pharmacy & professor, Chemistry & Pharmaceutical Chemistry. He started at UCSF in 1953 as an instructor and became one of the country's leading researchers in the field of thyroid hormones. Over the years he developed hundreds of chemical analogs or variants of the hormone thyroxine, in the hopes of perfecting a drug to help premature infants. By 1978 he develped DIMIT, a drug with the rare ability to cross a woman's placenta and reach the fetus in the womb. Jorgensen, a dedicated and devoted teacher, received several awards, including most recently an honorary doctorate degree from the Sorbonne in Paris, and the prestigious Award in Medicinal Chemistry from the Academy of Pharmaceutical Sciences of the American Pharmaceutical Association. On Jorgensen's death, Dean Jere Goyan, in Washington, D.C., stated, "He was a lovely human being and I have never known anyone who disliked him. As a scientist he was most distinguished and was one of the world's leading experts in his field." A memorial service will be held on Tuesday, February 24 in Cole Hall at 3 p.m.
